

ROAD FUNDS READY FOR CAMERON

Our Town

By J. B. White

One of the valuable lessons of the National Recovery Administration is teaching thoughtful citizens is that commerce must concern itself with supplying the people with what they can eat and wear and use. Not with what it suits the convenience of commerce to supply but actually cater to the convenience of the consumer. And with a due regard for the depleted state of finances and his patience.

In suggesting to national advertisers and manufacturers that they cooperate with the recovery program by stimulating buying power, General Johnson advised them to offer the public good goods, fairly priced. He invited their attention to the fact that the restoration of millions of workers to pay rolls has created a huge new purchasing power which must be shown careful consideration. Men and women long deprived of the privilege of supplying their needs cannot be approached in the reckless spirit of 1929. Nor will it be worth while to try or tempt them with the make-believe merchandise that has flooded the market in the last few years.

Men who scarcely scanned the fabric when nonchalantly ordering their clothes a scant four years back are now concerned with genuine values in selecting a suit. Until the country gets squarely on its feet, and perhaps for long thereafter, staple articles will make the strongest appeal.

The Consumer's Board of NRA has announced that it is utilizing the services of the Federal Government's famed Bureau of Standards and other official gaging agencies to definitely establish the values of commodities and merchandise. General Johnson is being consistent and rendering the public, as well as the advertisers, a valued service in advising industry to offer good goods, fairly priced. With these safeguards, the people are being genuinely encouraged to do their part in the buying campaign.

SCHOLASTIC LEAGUE FOR 1933 ORGANIZED

Organization of the Milam County Inter-scholastic League has been completed for this year, following the recent meeting with the rural teachers at Cameron.

Supt. Sam C. Miles of Rockdale was elected director general and Hubert Dennis of Rockdale, director of athletics.

The next meeting of the county league will be next spring at Rockdale. Other league directors are as follows:

Bob B. Covey, Milano, debate; Roy C. Hensley, Yarrellton, extemporaneous speaking; Supt. C. R. Middleton, Sharp, arithmetic; Miss Pearl Corley, Minerva, spelling; Mrs. Arthur Bowling, Gause, essay writing; Supt. J. E. Fox, Thorndale, declamation; Miss Jewell Smitherman, Belmea, music memory; Mrs. K. K. Robbins, county superintendent, Cameron, rural schools; Miss Ethel Collins, Sharp, picture memory; Miss Dora Emily Moore, Cameron, choral singing; and director of playground ball, to be appointed.

It Is the Voice of The Juniors

Hark! The Juniors' trumpets are sounding. What do they say? It is the Juniors' call-to-arms. Come one, come all. We are about to face a battle—The Battle of the Classes. Stand by! Stand by! We are going to the front. You, the citizens of Cameron are our allies. Heed the voice of the Juniors. Deposit your pennies, help us on to victory. Help us elect Theresa Manning, the Junior candidate, QUEEN OF YOE HIGH SCHOOL.

Caroline Porter, for the Junior Class.

Joe Moore Farms

People wonder what World's Series ball players do during off seasons. Here's the answer in the shape of Joe Moore, New York Giant outfielder, busy hoeing up his cow pasture at Gause, Texas, a village near Cameron. Joe says he likes the country life, and when the season is over wastes no time getting back home "Where I can see the sun rise," as he puts it.

BUSINESS WOMEN ARE IN NEW CLUB ROOMS

Formal dedication of the smart club rooms of the Business and Professional Women's Club was scheduled for Thursday night when the entertainment committee was staging a paid admission bridge program. It was planned to seat 72 people at 18 tables for the evening program.

The Club maintains an educational fund from which girls may borrow for schooling. At present the Club is assisting a student at college.

The first meeting in the new club located in the Legion building was held Tuesday evening of last week. A program offering talks on "Vocations and Personalities Represented in the Federation" was given. Miss Iva Wilson was chairman for the program.

Mrs. Lester Glass, Miss Kathryn Lovick and Miss Wilson made talks. Miss Arnett Ryan played the piano and Miss Foldine Rylander gave a reading.

The club rooms were arranged and furnished through the effort of Miss Lilian Atkinson and Miss Annie Stallworth, assisted by Mrs. Gladys Watson, Mrs. Lottie Bigbee and Miss Leila Woolley.

Rev. Mace and Wife To Live In Austin

Rev. Ed Mace has been called to pastor the Hyde Park Christian church in Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Mace will leave Cameron the first of November. The call to Austin is an advancement for Mr. Mace who is among the youngest ministers of the church.

An entertainment to say farewell to Mr. Mace was held Tuesday night at the church. Their work among young Christians in Cameron some months ago brought about organization of the Young Christian Association. This body directed the farewell program.

41,955 Cotton Ginning For Milam County

There were 41,955 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, ginned in Milam county from the crop of 1933 prior to October 1, 1933, as compared with 22,918 bales ginned to October 1, 1932.

A J. McKINNEY IS BUIERD LITTLE RIVER CEMETERY

A. J. McKinney died at his home in Jones Prairie Thursday, October 19, 1933.

Mr. McKinney was born January 15, 1861, son of the late Jasper and Martha McKinney who came to Texas in an ox wagon in 1854 and settled on the spot where he died. He built what is now known as the "Old McKinney Home," at Jones Prairie.

Mr. McKinney was married to Miss Lula Davis at Calvert in 1896. She died in 1903 leaving two small girls whom Mr. McKinney was both father and mother to. He followed the chosen profession of his father, that of farming, and had accumulated and lived in comfort with his two daughters who made their home with him.

He had not fully recovered from an attack of flu he suffered last January and had been in poor health, taking his bed several weeks ago, and had lain in a semi-conscious condition at times for two weeks, and died in the room that he was born in.

Mr. McKinney joined the Baptist church at an early age and had held his membership in the Little River church continuously since. He was of a quiet, reserved disposition. (See McKINNEY on page 4)

Mrs. Susie Sanders is visiting relatives and friends in Mexico for a few days.

Women Back Her

War clouds are brewing over the Texas State Teachers' association, after 30,000 women members have determined to elect Mrs. Roy C. Owens, Tyler, (above) president at the November meeting. Of 54 presidents, only two have been women, although the organization has less than 1,000 men members.

OIL BOARD NAMED FOR MILAM COUNTY

State papers carry announcement of the appointment and confirmation by National Planning and Coordinating Board of the following Milam county men as members of the Marketing Committee, covering Zone 9, District 5; W. E. Gaither, Rockdale and Cameron and Bob Swain, Minerva, Texas.

Zone 9 covers nine Central Texas counties, one of which is Milam county. It is understood to be the duties of committee to receive complaints and reports of marketing irregularities or violations and assist in adjusting difficulties and violations locally if at all possible in accordance with the Petroleum Code signed by the President.

If district committees can not make proper adjustment to conform with the Code, then violators are reported to state committee, which in turn will report to National Committee, if complaints and violations can not be adjusted and handled through state committee. W. B. Ellis (See OIL BOARD on page 4)

Green & Boedeker Give Greater Food Values

Green & Boedeker, enterprising food merchants in Santa Fe Town, greet the readers of the Herald with another message of better values in foods this week.

The firm finds that newspaper advertising is the best method by which they can get their message to food buyers. The firm is reporting a splendid increase in business since newspaper columns have carried their message. The large display ad will be found in this issue.

Friends and the public everywhere commend the example of these young business men who have made so signal a success in their business.

Caldwell and Yoemen Play

The cry "Caldwell shall not pass" is resounding through the halls of the old Yoe High School, upon the athletic field and among every Yoemen supporter in Cameron and surrounding territory.

"As the Hearne jinx was broken so shall the Caldwell jinx fall" before the fearless onslaughts of the mighty Yoemen, is shown in every practice and in every thought of the team and its backers.

The Caldwell bunch is bringing a mighty team but the Yoemen are mightier and they will go home knowing that something has hit them.

It is estimated that a crowd of at least 2500 people will witness this, the greatest football game of the year. The pep squad will be there in all their glory and with their new uniforms to entertain you between the halves as well as to support their brothers, the Yoemen. The band will be there to lend martial music for the occasion. The crowd will be there some to support the Yoemen and others to support Caldwell.

It is reported that Caldwell is bringing a 60 piece band and a large pep squad to support their team.

This will be a battle royal that you cannot afford to miss. It is the game of the year.

FUTURE FARMERS GO TO THE DALLAS FAIR

Nine boys from the C. H. Yoe High School Chapter Future Farmers of America attended the annual convention of the Future Farmers of Texas held at the Dallas Fair, October 21 and 22.

The Future Farmer exhibit, put on each year by Vocational Agricultural students, has taken rank with other similar exhibits seen at the fair. This year over eighty twenty boll samples or exhibits of cotton were a part of the Future Farmer booth. Other products shown by them were corn, grain sorghum, oats, wheat, peanuts, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes and onions. One exhibit of Irish potatoes and three of cotton were entered by Cameron boys. Whether they are among the winners is not known at this time.

Boys making the trip Saturday were Elbra James, Leo Michalka, A. W. Lucas, Truett Chambers, Marcelus Drago, John Ed Tindall, Julian Harris and Gordon Lowe. They were accompanied by Mr. Rudder, Mr. Lucas, Connie Strickland and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Strickland.

Students Will Elect Queen For School

High School students this week elect their queen, whose many attendants will be selected Grammar School Queen and her royal court will also participate in the beautiful public coronation at 8 o'clock on the lighted athletic field.

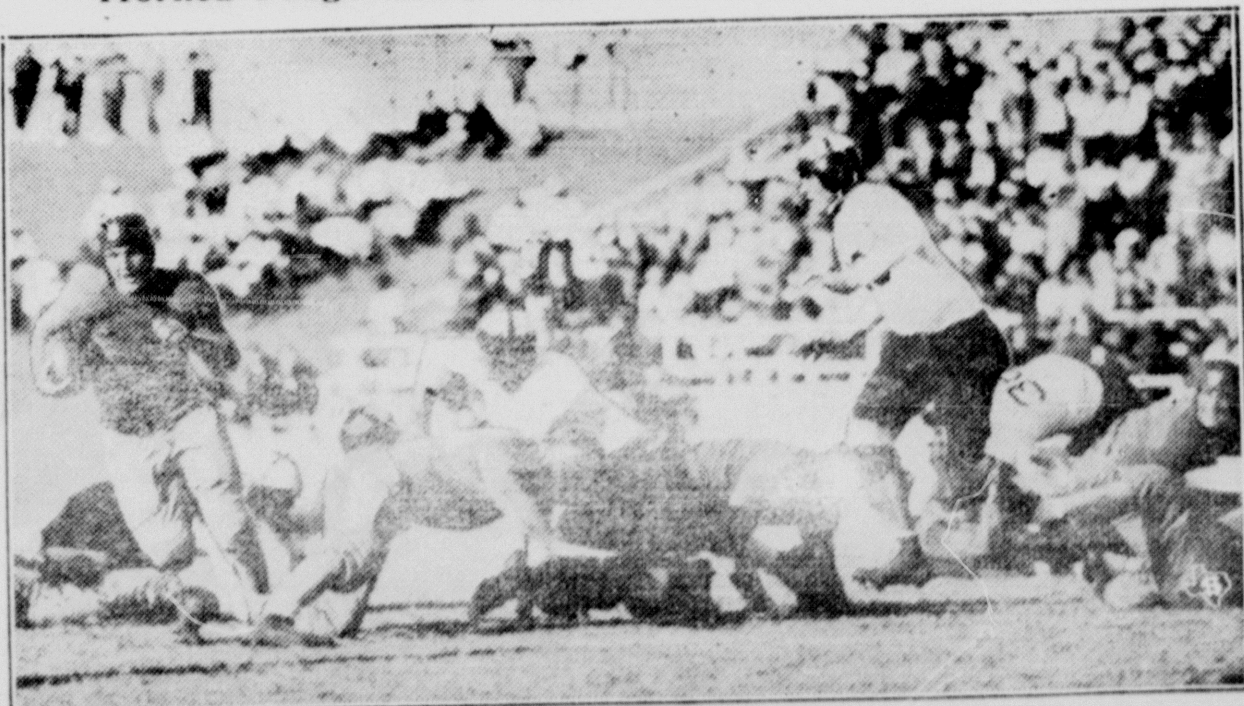

Entertainment following the coronation will include pantomime, tap dancing and specialty features, besides fascinating carnival booths, where articles amusing, instructive and edible may be found.

A Little Boy Writes Early To Santa Claus

The months go swiftly by and so do the years. With the brown leaves and somber skies come thoughts of Christmas just around the corner. The mail brought this letter to the editor's desk today, unsigned, and we pass it along to Santa Claus:

"Bring me a little red wagon. I want a little train and cars. I want some new fire hose and engine. I want a little airplane. I want a little side walk bicycle with little pedals and chain.

Horned Frogs Smear Aggies for Major Upset of Year

CONTROLS THE ENZYMES

WHAT is an enzyme? It is a mysterious substance put by nature into all living cells—in your mouth—in your stomach—in malt, hops and yeast.

Enzymes are nature's digestive agents. They digest the food you eat. They digest malt, hops, and yeast into solution—which we know as beer. Louis Pasteur, the famous French scientist, probed the mysteries of enzymes seventy years ago, but he left no formula for their control.

When enzymes are uncontrolled, they run wild—and yield beer that is rank and indigestible.

SCHLITZ has evolved a secret enzyme control that encourages the enzymatic action to exactly the correct point.

Thus does SCHLITZ effect complete fermentation at the brewery in Milwaukee—not in your stomach.

That is the answer to SCHLITZ full-bodied flavor, to its brilliance, to its healthfulness—for SCHLITZ is a predigested food.

It is never green—never turbid—never flat. It is mildly exhilarating. It flushes and tones the system properly—and at bedtime it induces sound, restful sleep. It is good and good for you. The Brown Bottle protects its purity from the brewery to your glass. Try it today! You'll like it.

By the case or in the attractive SCHLITZ Handy Six.

The Bankers Code OF Fair Competition

As submitted by the American Bankers Association, approved by the National Recovery Administration, and signed by the president of the United States, effective October 16, 1933.

To effectuate the purposes of the National Recovery Act, all banks shall comply with the rules governing fair competition in banking practices.

This statement gives a detailed list of the changes made by the bankers of Milam County for the various services rendered by a bank.

Issued By

Milam County Bankers Association

A MESSAGE TO OUR CUSTOMERS

Modern banking has grown and expanded and with it more and more services have been rendered to the customers. So usual are these services that no one thinks of them. Checks drawn on out of town banks are brought in and are immediately available for the payment of bills without a thought to the time, labor and expense to the bank to convert these checks into money, which in a week or ten days later will in turn become available for handling more checks. Not a thought is given to the means by which these pieces of paper on far distant parts are converted into money payable over the counter. You sit at your desk, write checks for your bills, mail your checks out of town, out of the state and call them paid, forgetting the time and labor that must lapse, the facilities provided and paid for by the bank and which must be maintained at all times to meet your incoming checks. Little attention is paid to how many checks you write, never a thought to the number of times a check must be inspected to see that it is properly endorsed, receipted for, posted and handled (5 times) before it is finally charged to your account.

The costs of these services and the many other transactions you have been accustomed to have with your bank have so depleted the profits of banking that the National Recovery Act has insisted that a uniform and reasonable fee be collected from the people served.

We submit you herein a list of these charges.

The charges listed in this statement will apply to each and every account and you can rest assured that no customer is being discriminated against and that all customers are treated alike.

We believe that the fairness of these service charges will appeal to every one. The charges are not made to discourage small accounts but to meet a part of the expense of handling them.

A bank, to pay expenses, must have the use of your money in proportion as you use the bank. If you use it out of proportion to your balance, you are required to pay for it.

When a depositor places his money in a bank, he expects it to be a safe depository and he wants assurance that his money will be ready for him when he wants it. Only a safe, solvent bank can give this assurance. All agree that only a profitable bank can in the long run be a safe bank. Our community wants no other kind.

The officers and employees of this bank will be glad to discuss and explain these charges to any customer at any time. We are here to supply first class prompt banking service to all who wish it and at a reasonable cost.

The difference between (1) TOTAL INTEREST ON LOANABLE FUNDS and (2) TOTAL COST OF HANDLING THE ACCOUNT, represents the profit or loss on the account.

3—Savings Accounts, Time and Interest Bearing Deposits. A monthly minimum charge of 50 cents against accounts having more than 5 withdrawals per calendar month, when average daily balance for the month is less than $100.00.

Why the Sudden Change to Liquid Laxatives?

Doctors have always recognized the value of the laxative whose dose can be measured, and whose action can be controlled.

The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription, and is perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna—a natural laxative. The bowels will not become dependent on this form of help. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is at all druggists. Member N. R. A.

A TONIC Laxative

CONSTIPATION, with the annoying symptoms that usually come with it, cuts down organic force and disturbs normal health and well-being. A thorough cleansing of the digestive tract is of great assistance in the removal of sickening constipation symptoms.

When excessive accumulated waste matter disturbs and strains the muscles of the large intestines, rendering them temporarily unable to perform their wave-like evacuating movements, Theodor's Black-Draught is useful in stimulating them to activity, which, again started, should continue regularly until some future disturbance interferes. In this way, Theodor's Black-Draught is one of the TONIC laxatives, tending, as it does, to establish a regular habit of evacuation.

42 CLUB

Mrs. Frank Lesovsky was hostess to the Forty-two Club Thursday afternoon. A pretty Hallow'en motif was attractively carried out in the decorations throughout the home and was in evidence in all game appointments and refreshments served, using the black cats, bats, skeletons, witches and Jack O'Lanterns.

A number of games were served, followed with the serving of a dainty plate. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. J. C. Martin in the hospitalities of the afternoon.

Guests other than club members were: Mrs. Rush Thomas, Mrs. John Cecil Culpepper, Mrs. J. C. Tucker, Mrs. Giles Avriett and Miss Wianie Henderson.

Henry Ford and the Blue Eagle

(The following was published in the Labor Messenger of Houston and submitted for re-publication in the Herald by H. H. Stedman of the Hefley-Stedman Motor Co.)

(The Labor Advocate, Cincinnati, O.)

Fifty years ago T. V. Powderly, the father of the Knights of Labor, the organization that laid the foundation for the American Federation of Labor and for organized labor in this country, traveled up and down this land preaching the then dreamy philosophy, that short working hours and a living wage meant not only prosperity for the working people themselves, but also security for the wealth of those who possessed enough, to be called wealthy.

He tried to impress upon the nation that the working people needed time to spend the money they earned and higher wages to buy the things they produced and if they did not have the time to spend their money, and sufficient wages to buy their products we would have over production and panics.

A strange and queer doctrine to the industrialists of that day. The panics came but notwithstanding Powderly was put down as a dreamer, for the business philosophy of the "Rugged Individualists" of that day was to make only themselves wealthy by compelling their employees to work twelve hours a day, seventy-two hours a week and nine dollars a week was good pay.

Of course, as Powderly the dreamer said, they had their panics those days just as we have our depression today, and always will have until the workers have enough money to purchase what they produce.

The human race progresses slowly, it takes sometimes hundreds of years to bring into manifestation a truth that when spoken should have been immediately obvious. And now today fifty years later, we have a Federal law making it mandatory on all people employing other human beings to obey the economic philosophy of the Dreamer Powderly.

The dreams of Powderly, and his colleagues of the Knights of Labor for short enough hours for producers to use the things they produce and wages partially sufficient to purchase their own products is now covered by the National Industrial Recovery Act, passed by an overwhelming vote of Congress and encouraged and endorsed by the great majority of industrialists and economists of the day.

Fifty years did it take, to impress upon the minds of the leaders of the nation the simple economic theory that if the working people did not have the money to purchase the products of factories then the owners of the factories, the wealthy people themselves would lose their factories and their wealth too.

Wages enough to buy the products they produce has been the great goal of organized labor. It is the only economic philosophy upon which this nation can exist, and so emphatically it is now impressed upon nearly all men, and so dangerous are men considered who do not believe in this economic doctrine, that our government has decided to place the crown of patriotic citizen on all who conduct their business according to those ideals by awarding them with a badge of merit. The insignia of the Blue Eagle, and those who do not conform are not to be awarded with this insignia of patri-

Pioneer Couple Here Celebrate Wedding Anniversary Sunday

Reunion of the I. B. Neal family was held in Cameron Sunday at the home of Rev. J. E. Buttrill, Methodist minister.

Mrs. Buttrill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal who are pioneer residents of Bell county. The reunion was in celebration of their 63rd wedding anniversary.

Following worship Sunday morning at the church the family gathered for lunch on the lawn of the Minister's home. The following six sons and one daughter attended with their families: Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Neal, Denny Neal, Temple; Mr. and Mrs. Asa Neal, Pendleton; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Neal, Runge; and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Buttrill, Cameron; Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Akridge, Earl Neal, Temple; C. W. Neal, Runge; Mr. and Mrs. Ferral Cowan, Belton; Miss Gladys and Burnet Neal, Pendleton and Lee Roy Buttrill, Austin.

riotism and as a consequence patriotic citizens will not patronize businesses that are not holders of the Blue Eagle.

A great victory for the economic doctrine of the dreamer Powderly, say you. A great victory for the ideals of organized labor, say we.

But wait, let us now, in our exultation over a great economic reform, have a crucifixion. For while Powderly's dreams were realistic to those who possessed not, it was over thirty years before any man who employed labor believed them sufficiently to put them into actual practice. Not until Henry Ford startled the world in nineteen fourteen by announcing that henceforth the minimum pay of any man in his employ would be five dollars per day. And ever since that time he has preached the doctrine of prosperous workers to the entire world and gradually even the rugged individuals of this day have been compelled by reasons of Mr. Ford's success to believe that the theory of prosperous workers must be brought about in some way. So today the "Rugged Individualist" believes the dreams of the visionary Powderly and it looks now as if the ideals of union labor would come to pass, but let us not forget that it took the greatest individual success in history to convince the nation that the doctrine of prosperous workers was necessary to keep the country prosperous. They believed Henry Ford—hadn't he demonstrated it? And twenty years afterward there were enough people who believed it to be able to pass a law compelling employers of labor to adhere to codes that would make the working people prosperous enough to purchase their own products.

Powderly was the voice crying in the wilderness, but Ford was the one who convinced the world that the doctrine was right.

And now his competitors expect him to sign a code that was wrung out of them as if it were their life's blood and which does not half come up to his ideals.

Why don't his competitors agree

Fair "Sally Rand"

Chicago has nothing on Texas (or Texas girls) as this picture proves. Gwendolyn Smith in the pose above is demure; whether she remains that way when she does her "Sally Rand" fan dance in the Beckman and Garretty shows at the State Fair of Texas is something that all visitors will find out for themselves.

to his code? Why should they expect him to agree to wages that he knows aren't half enough? And why shouldn't he make the code for the automobile industry? If Henry Ford can pay his workers a certain minimum, why shouldn't they be compelled to pay the same? If these automobile manufacturers will not realize like Ford does, that it takes prosperous working men to buy automobiles, the time will come when there will be no Chevrolets, Plymouths, Essex, sold at all. So after all, it will be Ford who will make the code for the automobile crafts and the rest of the country too. They will have to come up to his code and not him down. And because Ford sets the standard for high wages his competitors will sell more automobiles.

What a great tribute it is to the master minds of this age and to the leaders of industry of the greatest civilization that has ever trod this globe that laws were compelled to be passed to save their own hides and compelled to brand them as patriots so that there would be no cheating.

And amongst them all there was only one who felt that he didn't need to sign codes below the standard of which he was at the present time conducting his business? He wanted to raise wages and not be compelled to lower them.

He had done more than any living man to demonstrate the very doctrine that was made into this law. He had, through his entire business career, executed by far the requirements of this code that they wanted him to sign.

In nineteen fourteen he tried to convince the country that his economic theory was practical by making the minimum for his workers eight hours and five dollars per day. In nineteen twenty-six, he made a minimum of five days a week. Why should Henry Ford be supposed to sign a code that was just too preposterous for him to swallow. Henry Ford should have been handed a Blue Eagle on a golden plate.

Henry Ford never needed the Industrial Recovery Act or any code to make him pay his workers a fair wage. We venture the assertion that if his competitors will make a code of $5.00 per day minimum, Henry Ford will agree to one of $10.00 per day.

The City of Cincinnati has purchased fifty-five Fords. City Manager Dykstra has announced that he did so because Ford representatives informed him that Mr. Ford would more than comply with the Recovery Act.

He didn't need to have waited for that information. Of course Mr. Ford will comply with the Recovery Act. Even before any code was agreed upon by the automobile manufacturers Mr. Ford's wages were higher than their new code. Mr. Ford will always pay more than his competitors, and if he cannot stomach the code of wages wrung out of the life's blood of his competitors, he should be given the Blue Eagle and a golden eagle to go along with it, for he it was who compelled the "Rugged Individuals" of this era to at least acknowledge that a law must be passed to give the working people a living wage.

BIG PECANS

A big pecan tree on the Joe Hozek farm near Sharpe makes pecans 3 inches long and as large around as a banana. He sold one this week for 10 cents to a Cameron business man, so this journal is informed from Sharp sources. The tree produced 9 pecans. A pecan as large as a coconut should be worth about $5.

Le Roy Buttrill, student at State, spent the week end here with his parents.

Enterprising Houston Hotel and Manager BILL TUBB

You can't down the old philosopher's reasoning, "A Smile for Every Customer." This certainly holds true at an enterprising hotel in Houston, Texas, located on Main Street, right in the heart of the business district of Houston.

The manager's name is BILL TUBB. He works from early morning until late at night in his genuine desire to serve the needs of every one of his guests.

The remarkable thing about this hotel man is this—Bill Tubb has a smile for everyone, always. He is a native Texan, born at Reagan, Texas in 1900. He has been in the hotel business for the past 15 years and has lived in nearly every part of the coastal region.

During these years he has extended his acquaintance and possibly knows more Texans over the state than any other single hotel man.

He has been manager of the San Jacinto Hotel in Houston for the past two years, during which time the hotel has seen remarkable growth in patronage. The hotel has 300 large, high ceilinged guest rooms, is thoroughly modern in its appointments, in its service and its cuisine.

Probably this spirit of good fellowship which has permeated the entire organization and its willingness to serve has done more to popularize the San Jacinto Hotel among Texas people than any other single factor.

By BETTY WEBSTER

We now have with us that non-descript month of November which doesn't mean much of anything in the way of weather. While we might expect snow and cold and it is usually cold enough for furs, yet an occasional day comes which doesn't fit in with the landscape bare of leaves and blossoms.

See Shop Displays.

November has always seemed a time of waiting for the weather to settle down. Not as in spring when we look forward to summer and loveliness but awaiting for winter to cover the ravages of autumn with a kindly, beautiful blanket of snow. So don't you think we ought to eliminate November and get right down to the business of winter?

My way of getting through this time congenially is to get out my last winter's wardrobe and refurnish where necessary. For that my one compensation is the display of the shops. Have you seen all the lovely things? Dresses, suits and coats in such beautiful shades. And, really, the new hats are very fetching!

Time for Galoshes!

Have you bought your galoshes? If not, you'd better hurry. Somehow.

I have a feeling that the comfortable boots will be much in demand this winter.

DO YOU KNOW THAT:

1. Mirrors should always be washed carefully with soft cloths and warm water and dried with equal care, to prevent scratching the glass.
2. Polished brass can be successfully cleaned with a mild soap and warm water if immediately rinsed and polished with soft cheese cloth.
3. Gloves are tinted by cleaners, restoring the original shade.
4. Salt added to boiling water in a double boiler hastens cooking.
5. Freezing takes out peach stains?
6. You should not use a vacuum cleaner on the right side of long nap rugs?

FILL THOSE EMPTY LAMP SOCKETS

Empty sockets make no light. You snap a switch... expect a light... and then remember that you used the lamp in another place. What an annoyance! What a nuisance! What false economy... to change lamps from one socket to another... especially when you can buy the best lamp made for such a small sum.

So fill those empty sockets... give them a chance to be useful and to render the service they should. Order enough lamps to fill your empty sockets and to replace all burnt-out lamps. Then keep an extra carton in the cupboard for emergencies. Order a supply today.

SOCIETY

Miss Euline Slaughter Becomes Bride of Rudolph Bielefeldt In Church Wedding

A notable event of the autumn social season was the marriage of Miss Euline Slaughter to Rudolph Bielefeldt, of Wichita Falls at the First Baptist church, Rev. N. D. Timmerman, pastor, reading the beautiful ring ceremony.

The altar was attractively decorated with queenscrown, ferns in jardinières resting on tables, pedestals and along the altar rail, with the back of altar banked with ferns.

Ushers were Fred Graves and Vernon Slocomb, who conducted guests to their seats, with close friends inside of beribboned pews, and escorted Mrs. Balfour Franklin, of Austin, cousin of the bride, handsomely dressed in navy blue chiffon velvet with shoulder corsage, to the piano where she presided.

Miss Dora Emily Moore, attired in navy blue crepe, with a shoulder corsage, sang "I Love You Truly."

The traditional processional from "Lohengrin" announced the bridal party, the ushers coming first, who took their stand at the altar. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Winona Slaughter, sister of the bride attired in a light shade of beige crepe made on slendering lines, and wore a small hat of matching material and shade, sleeves mouscatoire design and carried a beautiful arm bouquet of pink carnation, tulie tied. The little ring bearer, Carolyn Brock came in dressed in a dainty pale pink crepe, with ribbon hair bows, bearing a small pink heart shaped satin pillow where rested the wedding ring, and stood in front of the maid of honor.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, looked sweet and charming in a handsome wedding gown of turquoise blue chiffon velvet, moulded in princess design, with mouscatoire sleeves with small hat of matching material and shade, and carried an arm bouquet of pink flowers, showered with narrow silver ribbons, tulie tied.

The bridegroom's best man, Perry Gott of Waco, came in with the bridegroom from the right of the altar, preceded by the minister, and took their stand at the right of the altar, and awaited the approaching bride and took their vows in clear tones. Mrs. Franklin included in the wedding music "Traumeri" which she played softly during the ceremony. Mendessohn's recessional was used for the closing of the wedding music.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bielefeldt of Waco, and for some time was an instructor in a commercial college at Waco, now holding a position as bookkeeper for a large wholesale firm in Wichita Falls. He is an excellent young man and well worthy of the charming bride he has won.

A wedding breakfast and informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Slaughter, immediately after the ceremony. The bride chose a modish brown traveling suit for her going-away costume, leaving that morning for their home in Wichita Falls where a ready furnished cottage awaited her.

Cut of town guests included the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bielefeldt, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bielefeldt, brother and wife, Mrs. Sedbury, Perry Gott, Miss Faron Roberts of Waco and Miss Doris Adams of Houston.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Robert Young celebrated the eleventh birthday of her daughter, Elaine Young, Wednesday, October 18th at her home on East 11th Street by inviting a number of her playmates. Flinch was the leading game with outdoor games on the lawn in the afternoon.

A pretty birthday cake in orange topped with eleven burning candles gave guests a chance to make many wishes for the honoree as she blew out the candles. A souvenir horn bearing a fortune rested on each plate where ice cream and candies were served. Little Elane was recipient of many useful and pretty gifts. Those present were: Lucille McDermott, Luella Stedman, Inez Slaughter, Dinaie Lockett, Madolyn Tucker, Helen Marie Taylor, La Verne Owensby, Malvina Olson, Rose Torno, Dora Emma Duncum, Lolene Liddle, Maxine Akers, Martha Frances Brogdon, Frances Lesovsky, Billie Nell Bowman, Charles Green and little Reba Young.

WUNSCH-MORAW

Miss Lucille Wunsch, daughter of Mrs. Laura Wunsch, of Burlington, was married to Frank Moraw, Jr. of Cameron Thursday morning, October 19th at 8 o'clock at Saint Michael's Catholic church at Burlington, Rev. James F. Moriarty reading the ring ceremony.

The bride was attired in white silk crepe with long bridal veil and carried white carnations with ferns. She was attended by Miss Heloise Martin as bridesmaid, dressed in dainty orchid silk crepe. Maid of honor was Miss Lucille Freri, attired in pink crepe and carried pink carnations.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Rudolph Moraw as best man, and Rudolph Wunsch.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party and a few close friends at the home of the bride's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Moraw will make their home at Maraksville.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

On Tuesday, October 10th Mr. William Eleanburg, pioneer farmer of Ad Hall, was overjoyed, being surprised by his children who came to celebrate his 80th birthday with a birthday dinner. Each brought a lot of good eats and spread a large table under the shade of his old pecan trees, which Mr. Eleanburg planted some twenty years ago. Those present were Mr. Green and William Eleanburg, Jr., and families of Milam; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harlitz of Cameron; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Eleanburg of Salem and Miss Millie Krull also of Salem; Mr. Charlie Cummings and Mr. Tom Eleanburg and two sisters of Mr. Eleanburg, Miss Laura and Miss Sarah Eleanburg.

After all had enjoyed the dinner, two of Mr. Eleanburg's granddaughters entertained the crowd with singing. One song was especially sung for Mr. Eleanburg, entitled "That Old Gray Haired Daddy of Mine." After the singing Mr. Eleanburg talked of his early days, which was very much enjoyed by all. We wish Mr. Eleanburg many more happy birthdays.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Complimenting her son, Bobbie Ralf, on his third birthday, Mr. and Mrs. Bartow Jackson entertained with a party at their home on Friday afternoon. The pretty birthday cake, lighted with three pink candles, rested in a bed of ferns. The cake was cut and served with ice cream.

Prizes were awarded to Laureta Wilson, Pauline Byrd, James Ray Eanes and Norman Fontaine, as winners in the games.

Those present were Sammie and Mira Winfield, James Ray and Billie Joe Eanes, Pauline and Otha Lee Byrd, Jr., Norman and Wanda Jantette Fontaine, Gladys Jewel and Lillie Mae Martin, Lauretta Wilson, Thomas Dalton Jackson, Wanda Lee Vaughan, Sonny Henrichsen and the honoree.

Assisting Mrs. Jackson were her mother, Mrs. C. M. Graber, Mrs. Otha Byrd, Mrs. Charles Fontaine and Mrs. J. J. Martin.

RICHARDSON-HOPE

Miss Juanita Richardson and Wade Hope of Rosebud were married by Judge Jeff T. Kemp Saturday in Cameron. The ceremony was witnessed by the family and close friends. Both are well known in Cameron. Mr. Hope was formerly with the New Cameron Drug Co., while Miss Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Richardson was formerly with the Kreisman store in Cameron.

They will make their home in Rosebud and have the best wishes of many friends in Cameron.

Thousands of Women Have Taken Cardui on Their Mothers' Advice

It is an impressive fact that many women have said they learned of the value of Cardui from their mothers.

What stronger evidence of her confidence in a medicine could a mother have than that she advises her daughter to take it?

Cardui is given the credit for relieving so many cases of womanly suffering that it is widely and favorably known. Druggists, everywhere, sell it.

If you are weak, run-down, suffering monthly, take Cardui. Take it for a reasonable length of time and try it thoroughly. As your health improves, you will share the enthusiasm of thousands of women who have written to say: "Cardui helped me."
